It affects all employment practices including but not limited to, recruitment, hiring, transfer, promotion, training, compensation, benefits, layoff and termination.

THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT (ADA) OF 1990

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 prohibits discrimination solely on the basis of disability in employment, public services, and accommodations. The person must be otherwise qualified for the program, service, or job. The basic requirement of the law as applied to institutions of higher education is: all programs, services, facilities must be accessible to or usable by persons with disabilities. BridgeValley Community and Technical College will provide reasonable accommodations to ensure an opportunity for participation in college classes and student activities to all qualified students with disabilities.

SECTIONS 504 OF THE REHABILITATION ACT OF 1973

Section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 states: No otherwise qualified individual with a disability in the United States shall, solely by reason of his / her disability, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.

WHAT THE LAW REQUIRES

BridgeValley will provide reasonable accommodations.

- Students are not required to assume the responsibility for securing necessary accommodations.
- The College is required to provide reasonable accommodations for a student's known disability so that a student has an equal opportunity to participate in courses, activities, or programs.
- The Office of Civil Rights (OCR) ruled that a college / university may not charge students for necessary accommodations.

TYPES / QUALIFICATIONS OF DISABILITIES

DEFINITION OF ACCESSIBILITY

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) defines a person with a disability as a person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activity. This includes people who have a record of such an impairment, even if they do not currently have a disability. It also includes individuals who do not have a disability but are regarded as having a disability. The ADA also makes it unlawful to discriminate against a person based on that person's association with a person with a disability.

It is important to remember that in the context of the ADA, "disability" is a legal term rather than a medical one. Because it has a legal definition, the ADA's definition of disability is different from how disability is defined under some other laws.

WHO QUALIFIES FOR ACCESSIBILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

A qualified individual with a disability is one who can provide documentation of such a disability. Acceptable documentation includes an Individualize Educational Plan (IEP) from a high school, 504 plan, psychological evaluation, or documentation from a professional. All documentation must be approved by the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services in order for appropriate accommodations to be provided. If documentation cannot be provided, BridgeValley may be able to assist with finding an appropriate agency for testing.

Some common disabilities (including but not limited to) are:

- Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder
- Blindness/ Low Vision
- Learning Disability
- Autism Spectrum Disorder
- Medical/Physical Disability
- Psychological/Psychiatric Disorder
- Deaf/Hard of Hearing
- Epilepsy
- Spinal Cord/Traumatic Brain Injury

CONFIDENTIALITY

A student's right to confidentiality is not only a right, but the law. In all cases, Accessibility Services does not have the ability to release information regarding services that a student may receive without prior written permission from the student, except where permitted by law.

BridgeValley strives to protect students' rights to confidentiality; therefore, one must be aware of situations that might breach that right.

- Accessibility Services views all materials pertaining to a student's disability as confidential. This policy is based upon government mandates regarding the confidential treatment of Accessibility-related information.
- All disability-related information for students at BridgeValley Community and Technical College is housed in the Office of Accessibility Services. Each student has a separate file housed in a secure filing cabinet. Access to these files are limited to the Accessibility Services Staff.
- Accessibility information may be released only when a student submits a signed "Student Consent for Access to Education Records", FERPA release form to the Registrar's Office.
- The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) also known as the Buckley Amendment, and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) do not allow faculty or others access to Accessibility-related information.
- According to the Association on Higher Education and Disabilities (AHEAD). "Disability related records provided by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other recognized professional are not subject to free access under FERPA.
- According to AHEAD, "It is only necessary to share with the faculty the information that a student has a documented disability and need for accommodation(s). Faculty members have no need to know the nature of the disability, only that it has been appropriately verified by the individual (office) assigned this responsibility on behalf of the institution."
- A student may request to review the contents of his or her own file in the presence of the Accessibility Services Coordinator, or designee. All information in the file is the property of the Office of Accessibility Services.
- The Office of Accessibility Services will retain all disability documentation for five years after a student's last enrollment at BridgeValley Community and Technical College.

Should you experience a breach in confidentiality, the first step would be to file an informal grievance report with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services. A copy of that report can be found in this handbook. Once the informal grievance report has been filed, the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services will begin an investigation with the student and third party in question.

CODE OF ETHICS

Accessibility Services adheres to the Code of Ethics established by the Association of Higher Education and Accessibility (AHEAD) as follows:

We agree that these principles are the Code of Ethics for postsecondary Accessibility service providers. As professionals, we are responsible for upholding, supporting, and advancing these ideas whenever possible. Members of AHEAD agree to monitor themselves and their peers in accordance with the spirit and provisions of this code, as determined by the following principles:

1. Postsecondary Accessibility Service providers are committed to facilitating the highest levels of educational excellence and potential quality of life for postsecondary students with disabilities.
2. Postsecondary Accessibility Service providers strive to achieve and maintain the highest levels of competence and integrity in all areas of assistance to adult students with disabilities. This support is guided by the consistent use of objective, professional judgment in all areas, especially when addressing the confidential nature of the student's disability.
3. Postsecondary Accessibility Service providers continually participate in professional activities and educational opportunities designed to strengthen the personal, educational and vocational quality of life for students with disabilities. This includes the on-going development of strategies, skills, research and knowledge pertinent to the highest quality of Accessibility Service delivery whenever and wherever it occurs.
4. Postsecondary Accessibility Service providers carry out their responsibilities in accordance with AHEAD professional standards and policy guidelines for adult students with disabilities. When certified, licensed, or affiliated with other professional organizations, they comply with those professional guidelines as well.
5. Postsecondary service providers are actively engaged in supporting and clarifying institutional, state, provincial & federal laws, policies & procedures applicable to the services delivered to students with disabilities. Compliance implies that professionals will not condone or participate in any unethical or illegal acts discussed within these guidelines.

APPLYING FOR CLASSROOM ACCOMMODATIONS

Students are responsible for communicating with instructors throughout the semester regarding accommodations. If a problem should arise, students have the right to file a concern in writing to the Dean of Students. The grievance procedures can be found in this handbook. Students are also encouraged to speak to the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services before filing a concern or grievance.

Students are responsible for maintaining communication throughout the semester with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services to ensure student success. Students with disabilities must meet the same expectations and responsibilities for education as students without a disability. This includes, but is not limited to, maintaining academic status, completing assignments, and engaging in communication with faculty.

If changes to a student's accommodation are needed after the start of a semester, arrangements can be made to provide appropriate accommodations; however, these accommodations will not be retroactive. Students must meet with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services for any modifications to accommodations.

Complete the Student Intake form/meeting to request services

- Students with a disability must request services and accommodations by completing a Student Intake Form.
- Students are required to meet with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services prior to the start of each semester.

Provide documentation/verification of disability

- A student with a physical, sensory, psychiatric, or health-related disability must provide documentation dated within the last five years verifying a disabling condition by a licensed health care professional who is qualified in the diagnosis of the disability.
- Proper documentation will be reviewed and approved by the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services to determine the most appropriate accommodations.

Arranging accommodations

- Upon review of the Student Intake Form, a meeting will be held in which the specific accommodation/service needs are discussed and scheduled.
- Students must meet with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services each semester in order to renew accommodations.
- Official notification of accommodations will be sent to the student's instructors explaining the certain accommodations students are to receive.

IMPORTANT STEPS TO RECEIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

Analyze your classes.

- Look at requirements for each of your classes and consider your particular disability related needs when determining which accommodations are appropriate. The accommodations for which you are eligible might not be appropriate or necessary for every class.

Speak to your instructor.

- Request an appointment with the instructor during the instructor's office hours early in the semester to discuss your accommodation requests.
- After you speak to your instructor, it is highly recommended that you have the instructor sign and date the bottom of your accommodation letter to verify your accommodations. Instructors are encouraged to have the student sign their copy of the accommodation letter as well.

Be clear and specific of your needs.

- When meeting with the instructor, make specific accommodation requests.
- You do not need to disclose the specific nature of your disability to your instructor.
- If at any point you are not comfortable with your instructor, please contact the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.

Communicate with Accessibility Services and your instructor.

- Touch base with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services on a regular basis. Even if accommodations and classes are going well, it is important to communicate.
- The Assistant Director of Accessibility Services serves as the student advocate to ensure accommodations are being met and to work out any problems that may arise with an instructor.
- Stay in contact with your instructor throughout the semester and provide reminders of planned accommodations before the accommodation is needed.

You should immediately alert the Director of Accessibility Services and/ or instructor if you are having difficulties with any accommodation, service, or class.

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS

A reasonable accommodation is a modification or adjustment that allows an individual to gain equal access and have equal opportunity to participate in BridgeValley Community and Technical College's courses, services, activities, and use of facilities. Students with a qualifying, documented disability are entitled, by law, to have necessary and reasonable academic accommodations provided by the College, so long as those accommodations do not, but are not limited to.

- Lowering academic standards
- Substantially altering a program or a course's essential requirements
- Pose a direct threat to the health or safety of others
- Place undue financial hardship on the institution

It is important to understand that accommodations do not guarantee academic success, nor do they provide an advantage to a student. They serve to "level the playing field" and provide equal access to the College's programs and activities.

When considering the strategies and accommodations you will need for success at the postsecondary institution, realize that what is expected of you in terms of independent reading and writing and the volume of work will be much greater in college than it was in high school. Your strategies and appropriate accommodations will probably also need to change. Talk to teachers, parents, siblings, and friends; find out what they had difficulty with in college. Then, consider how you will tackle those challenges. It is also important to communicate with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services and your instructors periodically throughout the semester.

Listed below are some accommodations offered by BridgeValley.

- Extended Test Time
- Alternate Testing Location
- Test Reader
- Note Taking
- Audio Recording Lectures
- Sign Language Interpreter

For a complete description of the procedures on each of these accommodations, please refer to the back of this handbook or speak with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.

AMERICAN SIGN LANGUAGE INTERPRETER PROCEDURE

Students with hearing impairments are offered American Sign Language interpreters as an accommodation in the classroom and for all BridgeValley Community & Technical College functions. Students who wish to be granted this accommodation must submit documentation to Accessibility Services and complete the Student Intake Form

All students who receive accommodations sign a receipt stating they have been informed that a copy of the Accessibility Services Handbook may be viewed on the website or in the Accessibility Services office. This handbook informs students of their rights, the law, and all policies & procedures within Accessibility Services.

Student Responsibility: Students must submit all required documentation and complete the Student Intake Form with Accessibility Services. All requests for interpreting services must be submitted to Accessibility Services at least five business days prior to an institutionally related activity or program.

Assigning an Interpreter: A student may request an interpreter for his or her class; however, the student does not have a final say in the interpreter assigned. All qualified interpreters should be registered with the West Virginia Commission for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing. In the event that an interpreter is not available from the registry you will be provided with a qualified interim interpreter.

Attendance: Students are expected to arrive on time for all classes. If the student is not present after 15 minutes, the interpreter will leave the class and the student will be considered absent without prior notification. Students are expected to notify the interpreter and/or the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services of any schedule changes or known absences within 24 hours of the event or as soon as possible. This excludes emergency situations which will be reviewed on a case by case basis.

Failure to provide 24 hour advanced notice will result in the following actions:

- First Offense: A letter will be sent reminding the student of the practice and procedures related to interpretation services.
- Second Offense: A second letter will be sent notifying the student that failure to provide 24 hour notice has occurred two times. The letter will also remind the student of the practice and procedure related to interpretation services along with consequences of a third offence.
- Third Offense: Interpretation services will be suspended and a certified letter will be sent to the student regarding practice and procedures related to interpretation services. The letter will also indicate that the interpretation services will remain suspended until the student arranges a meeting with the Interpreter and the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services to discuss reinstatement of interpretation services.

Within the Classroom: Arrange seating that allows for appropriate viewing of the interpreter. The interpreter is not to be involved in a dual role inside the classroom. The student should not request an interpreter to engage in the following roles: counselor, tutor, friend, confidant, in class assistant, note taker, transportation provider, professor, or other roles that are unrelated to interpreting services. The student is responsible for all course content, exams, assignments, and other course requirements. The interpreter is not responsible for the grade the student receives. If the student has questions about course material, grades, or related course aspects, he or she should speak to the instructor. Interpersonal conversations with the interpreter are inappropriate during class time. Students should reserve personal communications to times before or after class.

Scheduling an Interpreter: If the student needs to speak with the instructor or with other students after class for a meeting or tutoring, the student must inquire if the interpreter is available. If the interpreter is not available, the student will need to schedule an appointment for a later date. If interpreting services are needed for an institutional related activity or program other than academic classroom interpreting, the student should contact the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services as soon as possible to request interpreting services.

Problem Resolution: Discuss any issues regarding interpreting services that arise with the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services. All issues regarding class material are to be first directed to the instructor. If the problem cannot be resolved, the student will then need to speak to the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services. Should the interpreter be absent from class or another scheduled event, the student will need to report to Accessibility Services immediately.

Academic Integrity: All students will be held to the Academic Integrity Practice. Any student who disobeys this practice will face all penalties as described in the College Catalog.

A special concession may be made by the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services on a case by case basis.

Accessibility Services/Student Responsibility: Accessibility Services will make every attempt to maintain contact with the student throughout the semester via email and phone. It is ultimately the student's responsibility to check in with Accessibility Services to report any issues that may arise in the classroom and to update their file each semester.

Issues with Accommodations: Students are encouraged to speak to instructors immediately about any problems that arise during the semester. If the situation cannot be resolved, students should follow the grievance practice which can be found in the Accessibility Services Handbook.

EXTENDED TESTING TIME PROCEDURE

Accessibility Services will provide the instructor with an accommodation letter once the documentation has been approved by the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.

This handbook informs students of their rights, the law, and all policies & procedures within Accessibility Services.

Class Instruction: If class is scheduled to have lecture after a test, the instructor should do so as planned. Once the student has completed their test, it will be the student's responsibility to speak to the instructor or another classmate to get caught up on the lecture. When possible, the student should arrive earlier than the start of class to begin the test so that the student can fully participate in the class.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

BridgeValley Community and Technical College is committed to ensuring that no qualified individual with a disability is excluded from any participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination in programs or activities held by BridgeValley. Any student, who thinks discrimination has occurred due to a disability, or believes documented accommodations are not being met inside the classroom, may file a Grievance Report through Accessibility Services. All students who receive accommodations sign a receipt stating they have been informed that a copy of the Accessibility Services Handbook may be viewed on the website or in the Accessibility Services Office. This handbook informs students of their rights, the law, and all policies & procedures within Accessibility Services.

Scope and Application of Grievance Procedure

Any student who believes that discrimination has occurred on the basis of a disability, or who has been denied access or accommodations required by law, shall have the right to invoke this Grievance Procedure. In general, this procedure is designed to address the following issues:

- Disagreements or denials regarding requested services, accommodations, or modifications to practices or requirements;
- Alleged inaccessibility in a BridgeValley program or activity;
- Alleged harassment or discrimination on the basis of a disability;
- Any other alleged violations of the ADA and/or Section 504.

The focus of this Grievance Procedure does not and will not supersede any other institutional procedure or practice which may exist for addressing issues such as grade appeal or any other issue of concern in which BridgeValley has already established policies and procedures. Students are encouraged to consult Accessibility Services regarding the most appropriate procedure to address a particular concern.

Procedure

Regardless of the specific grievance issue reported by a student, all grievances must be filed within 15 business days of the occurrence of the event or action giving rise to the student's complaint. All grievances will be reviewed to determine whether they are submitted within a timely manner and/or whether they contain all required information. The meeting must take place within 15 business days of the original occurrence of the complaint. If the grievance is not resolved informally, then the student has the right to invoke the appropriate Formal Grievance Procedure.

Formal Grievance Procedure

1. NOTE TAKING PROCEDURE

BridgeValley Community and Technical College Accessibility Services, provides note taking services to students with disabilities who qualify for this accommodation. Accessibility Services assists students with identifying note takers and offers support throughout the semester. The student is responsible for self-reporting all disability accommodation needs to Accessibility Services.

All students who receive accommodations sign a receipt stating they have been informed that a copy of the Accessibility Services Handbook may be viewed on the website or in the Accessibility Services Office. This handbook informs students of their rights, the law, and all policies & procedures within Accessibility Services.

Approval of Services: To be granted accommodations in the classroom, students must meet with Accessibility Services. Students need to bring in proper documentation and complete the Student Intake Form. Students will need to discuss all accommodations they receive with each instructor who will receive a copy of the accommodation letter as soon as possible.

Finding a Note Taker: Accessibility Services will assist students in finding a competent note taker by working with BridgeValley Faculty.

Absent from Class: Students must inform the Accessibility Services Office prior to missing a class. Note takers will still provide notes for the student if absences are occasional, unanticipated, and/or disability related. Notes may not be provided for planned, repeated, or non-disability related absences. Having a note taker does not take the place of class attendance. If there are excessive, non-disability related absences, note taking services may be discontinued at the discretion of the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.

Note Taker Absence: It is the note taker's responsibility to secure a back-up note taker in the event the note taker is absent from class. Additionally, students could work with the instructor to obtain a copy of notes for that day of class. If the note taker drops/withdraws from class, it must be reported immediately to the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.

Provide Feedback: Be clear about what you expect and need to be successful in the class. Provide feedback to the note taker on the quality and consistency of notes. Students are also encouraged to share their contact information (BridgeValley email) in case of class cancellation or absences. Students need to communicate frequently with their note taker, and try to resolve issues in a timely manner. The longer it takes to resolve issues, the more difficult it will be to keep up in the class. The instructor is also a valuable resource in assisting you with resolving issues (how to improve the quality of the notes, emphasizing main points, etc.).

Concerns: Students are encouraged to speak to the instructor on a regular basis regarding accommodations, progress in the class, and any problems experienced. If the situation cannot be resolved with the instructor and/or note taker, students should report the issue to Accessibility Services.

Obtaining a Copy of Notes: Note takers should copy notes immediately after the class lecture is over (or by an agreed upon time). It is the student's responsibility to report to Accessibility Services if notes are not received in a timely manner.

South Charleston

Students have access to the Accessibility Services scanner to photo copy notes at no charge. Class notes will be available for students to pick up during the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services office hours. Students may also email notes to the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.

Montgomery Campus

Students may have their notes photo copied at the Student Success Center at no charge during their office hours. Students may also email notes to the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.

Students are held to academic integrity and are subject to academic and or disciplinary actions if violations occur.

Students Responsibility: Once the student is provided the recording device, it becomes the student's responsibility. The device itself is property of BridgeValley Community and Technical College. The student will be held responsible for replacing a lost or damaged device. If the device is not returned or is damaged there will be a hold placed on the students account until the device is replaced or returned. Audio recorders are to be returned to Accessibility Services, at the end of each semester.

Concerns: Students are required to speak to the instructor on a regular basis regarding accommodations, progress, and problems, should one occur. If the situation cannot be resolved with the instructor, students should report the issue to the Assistant Director of Accessibility Services.
