A Manufacturing Call to Action

Rm. 132

SESSIONS 1

Tuesday, May 19, 2:40 PM (45 min.)

Session Leader: Tom Hudson, CEO, Nth Works, Inc.

In this activity:

The U.S. technical workforce is facing a crisis. There is an inadequate number workers available, with the shortfall estimated to be 600,000 according to a study by Deloitte. Those who are available are insufficiently trained, behind the talent of our competitor nations, not ready for work, and not able to contribute to their company competitiveness at a global level. The age distribution of the current workforce is not balanced and a significant portion will be retiring in the next few years. If U.S. manufacturing and business is to remain competitive it's time for a fundamental change. Tom Hudson, a manufacturing leader who understands the problem and is ready to move to a new model, has a powerful message for employers.

The New AMT Tool & Die Program

SESSIONS 1

Rm. 132

Tuesday, May 19, 3:35 PM (45 min.)

Session Leader: Denis Taylor, Toyota Specialist, Program Leader

Current Tool & Die Programs are both difficult to access for many employers, and are not competitive with programs in Europe, creating a competitive disadvantage for U.S. companies. Toyota is establishing a new program that will be national in scope and will produce global level technician quality. Other employers will be welcome to join the effort.

In this activity:

- * Program overview
- * Program enrolls first students in August, 2016.
- * Program uses local talent but a national school.

Faculty Training: Developing AMT's in the Professional Behaviors

Tracking Floor Training for Maximum Performance

Rm. 132

SESSIONS 2

Wednesday, May 20, 9:45 AM(55 min.)

Session Leader: John McBride

In this activity:

- * Benefits of having a documented plan for training team members, and especially AMT students, during their time on the manufacturing floor.
- * Best ways for planning what training/tasks/experiences that team members/AMT's should do.
- * Examples of documented plans, lists of tasks to accomplish, etc.
- * Managing AMT training on the floor to ensure that goals are met.

FAME Information Meeting

Rm. 136

Special Activity

Tuesday, May 19, 3:35 PM (1 hr 45 min.)

Session Leader: Kim Menke, Manager, Toyota External Affairs

In this activity:

- * West Virginia employers attend an information meeting about the AMT Program and the WV FAME employer collaborative.
- * Companies interested in sponsoring AMT students can learn details of the program and how it works.

The AMT Recruiting Model

SESSIONS 1

Rm. 217

Wednesday, May 19, 4:30 PM (45 min.)

Session Leader: Dennis Dio Parker, Toyota Motor North America

The AMT recruiting model is a paradigm shift from the norm that has been in use for decades. Current models typically don't select students who are ready to be global quality technicians. As new AMT Programs start many continue to use the practices which have always been used. In a fast, content heavy program like AMT this can produce problems with students having the skills to keep up.

In this activity:

- * Review of the AMT Program goal for the Next Generation Technician.
- * Overview of the principles and practices of recruiting in the AMT Program, what works, and what does not work.
- * Survey of current practices which can strengthen AMT recruiting.

Go for the Best

If no one else is trying to recruit your prospective student, then why are you?

TOYOTA Plant Tour

SESSIONS 2

Lobby
Off-site

Wednesday, May 20, 8:40 AM(2 hrs 10 min.)

Session Leader: Sandy Maynard

In this activity:

- * Travel from the ATC to Buffalo, West Virginia to visit and tour a Toyota engine plant.
- * Transportation will be provided.
- * Connect with AMT work and projects on the manufacturing floor.
- * Return to the ATC following the tour.

NAPE Diversity Workshop

SESSIONS 2

Rm. 132 & 136

Wednesday, May 20, 8:40 AM (1 hour)

Session Leader: Elizabeth Tran

Stereotypes and Self-Efficacy: Using the Power of Micro-Affirmations to Diversify Student Participation in Advanced Manufacturing Technology

Stereotypes abound in schools, training programs, and the workforce, and while the harm caused by stereotypes is often unintentional, the end result leaves students with a decreased sense of self-efficacy, which discourages them from pursuing that program or pathway. As a result, college recruiters and employers left wanting when trying to diversify the ranks of individuals qualified to engage in the high-skill, high-demand careers of the 21st century.

During this workshop, participants will be: 1) introduced to NAPE's Micromessaging framework; 2) encouraged to think critically about their institution or workplace climate; and 3) better equipped to identify barriers to engagement and participation in their programs. Participants will leave the workshop with actionable strategies to foster an atmosphere of inclusion by harnessing the power of micro-affirmations, which are designed to increase students' self-efficacy and ultimately increase participation in advanced manufacturing and other STEM careers.

AMT Feedback and Report

SESSIONS 1

AMC (AMT Lab)

Tuesday, May 19, 4:30 PM (45 minutes)

Session Leaders: Denis Taylor

In this activity:

- * AMT discuss the AMT Program, work in teams, and produce feedback for the improvement of the program.
- * Feedback will be gained using a "SWOT" analysis
  - * Strengths
  - * Weaknesses
  - * Opportunities
  - * Threats
- * Feedback will be provided to program leaders

The Nth Works Experience: Old Bread in a New Package is Still Old Bread

SESSIONS 1

Rm. 132

Wednesday, May 19, 4:30 PM (45 min.)

Session Leader: Tom Hudson, CEO, Nth Works

New educational programs are often wrapped up in bright terms which promise great results. One employer, Nth Works, partnered in such a new program, designed to the dual apprenticeship European style. It was featured in news articles. The actual result delivers a bell-ringing message for U.S. employers. It did not succeed as planned. Learn in this session what occurred and the lessons that employers can take to ensure a better result.

In this activity:

- * Description of the “new” work-study program.
- * What happened? Why?
- * Lessons

“Louisville Manufacturer Launches High School Apprenticeship”

“nth works Partners with Kentucky Labor Cabinet to Pilot Manufacturing Apprentice Program.

The AMT Faculty Instructor

SESSIONS 2

Rm. 136

Wednesday, May 20, 8:40 AM (55 minutes)

Session Leader: Dennis Dio Parker

In this activity:

This session will highlight the ideal AMT instructor. One of the most profound paradigm changes of the AMT Program is the role and the practice of the college faculty instructor. The current model of instruction does not produce the most highly educated and work ready graduate. Some faculty in the AMT Program have adhered to traditional practice, resulting in under-achieving students, while others have successfully transitioned and are models for the new instructor. The result is seen in the advanced capability of their AMT students.

AMT Jeopardy

SESSIONS 2

AMC (AMT Lab)

Wednesday, May 20, 8:40 AM (55 minutes)

Session Leader: Dennis Dunbar

In this activity:

- * AMT Teams play Jeopardy
- * Focus is the Manufacturing Core Exercises and other AMT-relevant info.
- * Lots of fun, even for observers!
